Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

Tragedy for the South, including Mississippi, is in the figures showing that only 20 percent of the cotton exported the first five months of last year was exported the first 5 months of this year. What to do about it should enlist the best brains available.

We are beginning to doubt the greatness and power of our representation in Congress. If they have power, they should show it by bringing to Mississippi some of the huge expenditures made in national defense. If they are great, let them show it!!

The powerful Thunderbolt car exhibited by Joe Neely at Grenada Auto Company Wednesday night is a marvelous car, almost completely automatic in operation. Many interested people gathered to see it and hear of it.

Mr. H. B. Allen is scheduled to address the Lions Friday noon. Every Lion should bring a guest. If any individual Lion will tell me that Allen is not the smartest dude he ever heard talk, I will pay for his guest's dinner. That's a fair proposition, isn't it?

Tenor Will Boone of Batesville, got right on the books this week.

Our leaders should begin making plans to soften the inevitable blow that will fall after the cessation of hostilities. Win or lose, we are going to be in a heluva shape.

Much oldiged to Henry Ford for so many ads. He and Sears believe in printer's ink, freely used.

Congratulations to 2nd Lt. Davis upon his promotion to 1st Lt.

Bouncer Greenfield is getting fatter. So is Horn. The latter has gained 15 pounds since he started working for us.

For the benefit of Gilman Woods, et al, let us say that Mitchell is still at Parchman.

"Ware Bobber Shop" received a letter from Rastus, the colored striker of the officers of our home company. He likes Florida.

Just because the stork visited only two couples this week is no sign he has stopped. He is just backing up to get a fresh start.

Grenada is sailing on with even keel now. But our leaders and thinkers should today begin planning for the inevitable slump which will follow the close of the defense program. Win or lose, there will be chaos in communities which do not prepare.

Aint they sweet. M. E. W. and W. W. W.

George Kraft, who is conducting a worthwhile soil experiment north of town, and incidentally preparing for the future, recently became a member of the GCW family.

A number of officials from neighboring towns which have municipal plants gave Grenada citizens the benefit of their several experiences at a meeting held at the City Hall Tuesday night. Red Briscoe certainly is keeping the pot "biling."

What happened to the Food Stamp Plan? Every week we read of other Mississippi counties starting it in their jurisdictions.

To hell with all politicians. If I ever waste any of my time upon a politician again, I hope somebody will deliver a severe blow with the toe of his shoe upon the posterior part of my anatomy.

Better pay your city taxes before the 1st of April. That's no joke.

We have about enough job printing for this weekend, but will need some next week-end.

We welcome a pretty gal this week in the person of Miss Cora Mullin.

Please note the date opposite your name. "3-41" means that your subscription was out the third month in 1941, etc. It's easy.

The postal service in Jackson is improving. Assuming that No. 3 was on time, as usual, it required only one hour and 25 minutes to deliver a Special Delivery Monday.

Mickie Clark, who now makes his home in Chicago, is home on a visit, reveling to get some of this good o'd southern sunshine. He and his brother in law, Sheriff Taylor Hayward honored us with a brief call Wednesday.

Robert Winn from Boston, also honored us with a visit Wednesday. He once went to school here about fifty or sixty years ago when he stayed with his aunt, Mrs. Cora Griffis. I'll be he gets hopping mad when he sees 50 or 60.

Mrs. Sarah Roberts Jackson Died Saturday Last

Mrs. Sarah Adeline Roberts Jacksonson, aged 87 years, died in the home of her son, Mr. H. T. Jackson near Grenada, on Saturday, March 22, 1941.

She was born in Carroll county in October, 1854, and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robers. As was the custom in those times, she was educated by a tutor in her parents' home in Carroll county. She was a life long member of the Baptist faith and was a member of Pisgah church in Carroll county. She and Mr. H. T. Jackson, Sr., were married in 1873.

She was a dear, kindly old lady, loved by all her children and grandchildren, as well as by all who knew her. Always more interested in her home and the rearing of her children than in outside affairs, her devotion to children did not stop when her own were grown but was transferred to the grandchildren and great grandchildren, as they came along.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Leroy G. Sellers, pastor of Pisgah church, and Rev. Glen E. Wiley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Grenada, at Pisgah Sunday, March 23.

Surviving her are three sons, Messrs. H. T. Jackson, of Grenada, George Jackson, of Holcomb, and Charlie Jackson, of Carrollton; three daughters, Mesdames W. A. Lee, of Avalon, Tillman Emons, of Jefferson, and J. A. Smith, of Carrollton; three brothers in Texas, one sister in Arkansas, twenty-four grandchildren and ten great grandchildren, to all of whom we extend our sympathy.

Miss Katherine Corley Died Last Thursday

Miss Katherine Corley, a pupil of Cavalry school, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Corley, of McCarley, died in Grenada Hospital last Thursday, March 20, 1941.

She was a bright, intelligent young lady, just a few months over 11 years of age, having been born on December 1, 1929.

Her body was buried at the Hickory Grove cemetery on March 22. Her uncles, Messrs. Powell and Claud Corley of Carrollton and Leon, Lewis James and Floyd Fowler, of Carrollton were pallbearers. Three ministers, Rev. J. M. Corley, of McCarley, L. F. Fowler, of Winona and Rev. W. F. Garner, of Grenada, Rt. 1, officiated.

She is survived by her parents, one brother and one sister.

BAND BOOSTERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Grenada Band Boosters Club was held Tuesday night, March 18th, at the High School. Several important matters were discussed, among them the State Band contest which will be in Jackson the latter part of April. Mr. Rundle made an announcement of eth appearance of the Ritz Trumpeteers, on April 7 at the High School. This entertainment is sponsored by the Band. The Trumpeteers, a group of five, come highly recommended and promise a musical program of the highest quality.

Plans were discussed for a cake walk which will be held Friday afternoon, March 28th, proceeds of which will go to the Band Boosters Fund.

Making a long tale short. All the MSCW girls and the State College boys are home for Spring holidays.

Mr. J. B. Perry, Sr. Discusses Power Rates For Churches

Mr. H. J. Ray,
Grenada, Miss.
Dear Sir:

Your letter last week about electricity was surprising. Don't you read everywhere you travel that "Electricity is cheap?" Don't you believe what you read on these big signs and what is stated in the newspapers?

Will Rogers always said "all I know is what I see in the papers" you ought to read the papers, and learn that "Electricity is cheap."

To get at the facts you wanted to know about in your letter, the Baptist Church for March was billed a little over $40.00 for 640 Kilowatts.

The residence rate in Grenada would make your bill figure as follows:

65 KW at 3.75 2.44
80 KW at 3. 2.40
350 KW at 2. 7.00
125 KW at 1½ 1.88 Total $13.72

Plus sales tax

The commercial rate would make the church cost read as follows:

150 Kilowatts at 5½ cts $8.25
75 Kilowatts at 5 cts 3.00
295 Kilowatts at 2 cts 7.90
Total $19.15

Plus Sales tax

Suppose you should call up one of our coal dealers and ask him the price on a ton of coal, which is about $7.00 you told him "Send the Baptist church 5 tons". The dealer then says oh; that is different, the price to the churches in Grenada is $21.00 per ton.

That is exactly what the light company is saying to all our churches. Any night club or bootleg joint is on the favored list so far as rates for lighting are concerned.

You might ask why so many different rates for the same commodity, the same thing is sold to every customer.

Oh, you are just an ignorant cuss, and don't understand how to throw dust in peoples' eyes.

You know we had to borrow a little money from your bank at one time to meet some payments to builders of the church and it was advanced at 4 per cent being for a church; your rates are 6 percent on prime paper, therefore you show your ignorance by not charging the church 18 percent for that loan.

"Electricity is cheap." No, No. Not to churches.

"Electricity is cheap," No, not in Grenada.

"Electricity is cheap," Gosh, Golly and also Gee-Whiz."

Very truly yours,
J. B. Perry.

How About Cucumbers For Grenada County?

Mr. Joseph Flamenbaum, of Eau Claire, Michigan, is in Grenada seeking to interest the farmers of Grenada county in planting at least 100 acres to cucumbers this year.

This gentleman is an uncle of Mrs. Abe Isenberg, of Grenada, and will be at the Isenberg Store in Grenada for some time for the purpose of explaining in greater detail his plan of operation. Seeking a uniform product, he stated that he always supplied the seed.

He comes to Grenada well recommended.

While in Jackson Friday, we had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Spier, head of the Vets Administration. Little Prich Horton, a part of the organization, is held in high regard by his boss, Dr. Spier, as well as by his numerous associates. Dr. Spier is a kindly, courteous gentleman whom I delight to have added to my acquaintances.

Mrs. Randolph Leigh Saves Husband From Shark

Adventures in waters of the Gulf of California, including a [illegible] battle with a giant Mobula species of rayy, were related yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Leigh, who brought their auxiliary sc[illegible]er Lascar II into San Pedro after a 10,000 mile cruise.

Leigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leigh, 1174 Victoria avenue Los Angeles, tanned and bronzed from his trip, said the Lascar II was almost upset by the huge ray, which he harpooned in Magdalena Bay.

In attempting to bring a huge shark to gaff, he reported, he was saved from being pulled overboard by quick action of Mrs. Leigh, who grabbed him and held on until a deckhand came to her aid.

Among trophies of his trip were the shark's 42 teeth.—Los Angeles Examiner, March 19, 1941.

Accompanying the above article from the Los Angeles newspaper is a picture showing Mr. Leigh holding the immense jaws of the shark in front of Mrs. Leigh. Apparently the jaws of the fish were about three feet one way and two feet the other.

Mr. Leigh, as the older people here will remember, was born and reared in Grenada. He once lived in Virginia and opposed Hon. Carter Glass for the U. S. Senate. He is a nephew of Mesdames J. T. Thomas and Weet Barksdale and a first cousin of Miss Elizabeth Jones.

The clipping was sent the GCW by Mr. Henry Orman, of Los Angeles.

Improvements On Depot Street

The three brick buildings on East Depot Street, owned by W. B. Hoffa, and occupied by D. D. Smith Volunteer Grocery Store and by Art Quantrell Chevrolet Company, are undergoing extensive frontal improvements. New display windows of modern design will be installed, and other improvements looking to the modernization of the buildings will be made. The City Lumber Company has the contract, with Mr. H. M. Day as foreman.

Thus Grenada Grows.

Cast of Thousands Makes Mob Scene Finest

The making of "Golgotha" required a cast of thousands of people. The Film Daily, which is the official publication of the motion picture industry states, "No mob scenes such as these have ever before been recorded on films. They are breath-taking and awe-inspiring. Innumerable close-ups are given of dozens of people in the cast and each close up represents a distinct individual reflecting his or her individual emotions." The mob scene will hold you spellbond in their terrific sweep. At the same time all the important characters are portrayed by the finest actors that could be obtained for the various parts.

You have often heard and read the story of the life and crucifixion of Christ, but you will never appreciate its full meaning until you see it in the talking motion picture, "Golgotha." This picture attains the highest standards ever set in the production of good motion pictures. It stands out as one of the greatest epochs of all times.

Aint they sweet.

Farm Bureau Meets At The Agricultural Building

"Golgotha" Was Made At a Cost Of $800,000

"Golgotha" to be shown in Grenada on April 5th is not an ordinary motion picture. It is a spectacular and thrilling entertainment. And in addition to being highly entertaining and interesting, it also presents an outstanding moral, religious, and educational value to every community in which it is shown. "Golgotha" is one of the most costly pictures ever produced. The average feature picture in Hollywood costs approximately $200,000.00 to make, but "Golgotha" cost $800,000, over four times the cost of an average feature motion picture made in Hollywood. This gives some idea as to the size and magnitude of this great picture. The picture was made in the old country but all speaking parts are in English. It is a tremendous spectacle. The cast, costuming, and settings make it one of the greatest scenic dramas ever filmed. It is necessary to see the picture to appreciate its greatness. The Twentieth Century Club feels fortunate to have the opportunity to present such an outstanding motion picture in this community. To see it is a rare opportunity.

Red Cross Headquarters Needed For Grenada

To say it simply the Red Cross chapter of Grenada needs a work room.

As in the days of the first World War, every community that is large enough to have a Red Cross chapter is called upon for garments, bandages and supplies. Grenada at this time is asking for sweater knitters. How many more would volunteer their services if there was a place provided where they could receive instructions from expert knitters. The simple instructions for making a slipover sweater are not to be compared to the instructions for the coat style sweater needed at this time. There are some expert knitters in Grenada, and your informant has been assured that should there be a place provided, these ladies would supervise and teach knitting.

The GCW invites a discussion of this problem through its columns.

Briscoe Delves Deeper Into The Power Question

In acordance with the Federal Power Commission Rate Book (revised December 4th, 1939) the Mississippi Power ½ Light Company has twenty-seven (27) Major Rate Schedules and subhead after subhead under each of these twenty seven (27) major schedules, there is no two major or subhead schedules alike, so you may readily see that the Power Company has a variety to differentiate their rates to comply with any and all occasions but at the same time the different rate schedules that they apply invariably terminates with a staggering figure to the right that we well know as TOTAL DUE THE POWER COMPANY as if feeding one bitters that are handsomely covered with sweets. As to their billing the Churches 7c per KWH the only plausable expression I have to offer is that apparently they are after the Widow's Mite for we are well aware of the confirmed fact that they collect every penny from every consumer at as high rate as the traffic will bear.

From a pamphlet issued by them to their stockholders as a notice of election of officers on March 17th this year I have gathered this information:

Mr. Rex I. Brown owns 12 shares $600 Preferred. L. Z. Dickey owns 5 shares of the $600 Preferred. J. M. Hartfield owns 5 of the same and H. B. Sagrent only 2 of these Shares, this staff composes part of the officers, they don't think much of their own company's shares do you think? the Directors and Officers received in 1940 for services in all capacities, $52,149.92 and Mr. Brown received $17,740.08. Mr. Sagrent as vice-president received $6,850.00 (Liberary of Congress says Mr. Sagrent received $6,751.15) and that another vice-president, a Mr W. A. Moore received $6,000.00 in 1939. Comparing the power company's own figures of salaries and expenses paid officials in 1940 which was $52,149.92 and Library of Congress 1939 report $27,491.18 that makes a gain for 1940 over 1939 the sum of $18,658.74 paid officials more than was paid in '39 and who said the power company is about to go broke? if you ask me they have a money mint and are really doing quite well.

The Electric Bond and Share owns enough voting securities of Electric Power & Light Corp. to nominate or nominate any nominees as directors of Electric Power & Light Corp. and the Electric Power & Light Corp. owns 94 percent of the voting securities of the Mississippi Power & Light Co. to nominate any nominees as directors for the Mississippi Power [illegible] and in turn Sun Life Insurance Co. of Canada owns and dominates all three, they have holdings over Central and South America as well as all over the United States, so you see when we pay a light bill, large or small, we donate to a syndicate that has no mercy, a well organized and trained quorum and a board of experts that have no scruples of Church rates or charitable institutions, they want the money, the real money and nothing but the money, and believe me you they get what they want.

Where City System prevail churches and charitable institutions get a reduction either at cost or on a no charge basis, they get the same concession on city facilities and best of all is that they thrive, grow large and larger, show a tremendous profit and retail their energy at a price that a working man can afford to pay and continue to live.

The Mississippi Power & Light Co. makes comparison with us as of the Mississippi Power Co. we are not interested in that kind of comparison, we know that in most cases our company is cheaper than the Mississippi Power Co., but if you put them both in a sack you have the same thing, one is no better than the other in my opinion, with a City Plant we could and would thrive wonderfully in that respect.

C. W. (Red) Briscoe.

March 18, 1941.

FINAL GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 6,384 bales of cotton were ginned in Grenada County from the crop of 1940 prior to March 1, 1941, as compared with 7,288 bales for the crop of 1939.

It looks like that, with our so-called powerful representation in Washington this state would be getting something from the defense flood of money. That huge plant at Millington, fifteen miles north of Memphis, could just as easily have been located on level ground 15 miles north or 15 miles south of Grenada. Sometimes we doubt the power of our powerful representation in Congress.

With The County Agent

The following AAA Committeemen attended the regular monthly meeting at the Agricultural Building: Hubert Clark, J. R. Parker, P. H. Willis, J. D. Blakely, E. L. Boteler, Groce Carver, D. J. Hall, E. C. Hayward, Guy James, E. C. Kersh, J. W. McCormick, A. W. Mullen, J. G. Shaw, R. T. Suggs, A. L. Taylor, M. S. Tilghman, R. West, and A. M. Yopp. Mr. J. W. Wood, Administrative Assistant, explained the regulations of the 1941 program, the Cotton Stamp Program and the Food Conservation Program so the committeemen can explain it to the farmers in their committees.

Mr. Groce Carver, president of the County Farm Bureau, called a meeting of the Board of Directors to formulate a program to improve agriculture in the county. 4-H Calf Clubs will be sponsored and financial assistance may be obtained from the Greenwood Production Credit Association. A "Barn Dance" and educational program will be held for the new, modern dairy barn on the farm of Mr. George F. Kraft about April 18.

The Farmers in Beats 2 and 3 are very proud of the dividends made by their new Cooperative Gin at Grayspport. At a recent meeting Hubert Clark was re-elected manager, and the Board of Directors was re-elected which is composed of F. E. Gillon, Dr. E. C. Rouse, J. W. Willis, W. W. Koonce, Hubert Clark, and D. M. Trussell.

Dr. F. B. Coats was the first farmer to plant crotalaria for a soil building crop. He likes it because livestock won't eat it and his soil can get the benefit from it. He is terracing some hill land and getting ready to plant his crotalaria.

A J. Kings cotton and four clover spot at Pearidge has grown profusedly during the past few warm days. He writes farmers with which not to get discouraged as it will grow mighty fast with a few weeks of spring sunshine. It should be 12 to 18 inches high before it is plowed under. This growth is equivalent to 80 pounds of fertilizer per acre.

Billy Saunders has recently finished topdressing his oats with Nitrate of Soda. He has the best looking field of oats in the county. He advises farmers to fertilize their oats as it will almost double the production.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Red Briscoe carried the ball a good while. Now I see he has got some help, Henry Ray and Johnnie Ben Perry. They are hitting the power trust with every weapon, like I did Ford, However the power question is too deep for me. I do not know a damn thing about it. I used to think I knew something.

There are many manufacturers, seeking to decentralize, who want just what Grenada has to offer. The thing that we lack is proper contact with those people.

Mrs. Gene Proudfit made the GCW happy Monday. Guess why?

From "Keeping Posted," a weekly bulletin issued by the Bank of America, we see a quotation from Neil Carothers, Dean of the College of Business Administration, Lehigh University." The thing needed is some sort of guarantee that the era of economic vivisection is over, so that enterprise can get up off the floor, dust itself off, and go to work." Mr. Carothers is a first cousin of Hon. Andrew Carothers of Grenada.

Our rich subscriber, Chester Brown, has finished his winter vacation in Florida and has returned to Asheville to go to work. We always appreciate his kindly words about the GCW.

Several from Ole Mess spent the week-end at home.

It Can Be Done

During the past five years farm income in Mississippi has dropped steadily lower. Last year we had a total farm income, including government payments, of only $170,738,000. This was 23.7 per cent LESS than we had five years ago.

Furthermore, the 1941 "Agricultural Outlook" bulletin, put out by the Extension Service of Mississippi State College, frankly states that Mississippi, in fact the whole South, is already faced with an especially difficult problem due to its dense rural population and the decline in the foreign market for cotton, and the intensity of the problems in this area is certain to be further increased by the current war and its aftermath."

We have lost our cotton export market and it is imperative that we try to find new and better sources of income. If we do not we face almost certain disaster.

We know that some people are going to say, "A plan is good, but it can't be carried out." We strongly disagree with this point of view. We believe that we can do something if we will get together and work for the welfare of this state.

Let us briefly tell you about what was notably ACCOMPLISHED in one small area about the same size as the hill counties in North Mississippi.

From 1865 to 1875 the farmers of the people of Denmark were at the lowest possible level. They were in the direst poverty and were little better than serfs attached to great feudal estates. They were ignorant and had only a few leaders. Their soil was impoverished by centuries of misuse and, to top all their troubles, their export market for grain, their principal cash crop, was almost completely taken away from them by exports from America.

Yet in less than 40 years these people became the most prosperous farmers in the world. They completely changed their system of farming and turned cash crops to dairy products, eggs and bacon. They formed cooperatives to help them with their problems of production and of marketing and developed one of the greatest and most profitable selling organizations in agricultural history.

Starting with one cooperative creamery in 1881 these people gradually built 1,741 such establishments in a country only one-third the size of Mississippi.

In the same way they started what they called a "bacon factory" in 1887 and now they sell nearly $100,000,000 worth of pork products each year.

The same method was used with outstanding success with poultry products.

It is said that education in Denmark, prior to the war and the depression, achieved the highest level of prosperity and efficiency in the world by virtue of cooperation on the part of her people.

Probably you would like to know how this miraculous change from poverty to outstanding prosperity came to the Danes. The answer is that about 1840 there was a man named Nickolai Grundtvig, he later became Bishop Grundtvig, who believed in his people and who resolved that he would raise the standards of his people by teaching them to love and appreciate their country; by giving dignity to the life of the farmer; and by making farming profitable.

This man fought many years for his ideals and many schools were started to teach the people according to the ideals of this great leader.

While Bishop Grundtvig did not live to see any of these changes come to his country he did sow the seeds and hundreds of Danes caught a vision of what their country might be. As a result they worked together and they accomplished what can only be described as a miracle of reconstruction in their small nation.

We in Mississippi have many advantages that the Danes never had. We have many leaders, many schools, and other great advantages. We are convinced that if our people will resolve that they are going to work together, and make this state better than it has ever been heretofore, that it can be done.

There are immense possibilities in industry and in agriculture today. We have the resources in men and materials to do great things if we will forget our past skepticism concerning ourselves and our abilities and realize that "Mississippi can—if Mississippi will."

What we need is a coming together of our people and a firm resolve that we WILL build a greater and a more prosperous Mississippi.

England And Germany

Last week we noted that the German armies were scattered over an area of more than 2,000,000 square miles, and among more than 100,000,000 bitterly hostile people in occupied and conquered territory. That is a perilous position for any army to be placed in, as the Japanese found out from their experience in China.

But this expansion is a great asset to the British and a great liability to the Germans. It is British strategy to draw the German armies as far from Germany as possible. This prevents their concentration in any one region, and also makes it possible to fight the war on two fronts, exactly what the Germans do not want to do.

Transportation is one of Germany's weak links, and it is a great strain on the German army to transport all of the equipment an army requires—artillery, motor transport, armored cars and tanks—not to mention the fuel which must be carried for mechanized equipment, and the food required in the field. This is made more difficult by the fact that the Germans do not know the intention of the British, nor at which of many points they may strike.

Of the two European fronts, we shall today consider the northern region—leaving the Balkans for next week. And in order to visualize more clearly the scene of European operations between England and Germany, we shall express the distances between European points in terms of equivalent distance in the United States.

The Germans have occupied a region ranging from Narvik, Norway, to the Bulgarian-Greek border—and from Brest, France, to the mouth of the Danube River where it flows into the Black Sea off the Romanian coast. This territory would reach from New York City on the east to Denver, Colorado, on the west. And from the Canadian capitol at Ottawa, Ontario, across the Rio Grande River into Mexico.

How broadly the Germans have extended their lines to reach submarine bases on the west coasts of France and Norway, and oil and food toward the east and southeast, is indicated by these great distances. In order to reach these objectives, they have had to spread their army all over Europe. Now they have many thousands of miles of highways, railways, canals and river routes to protect, in order to reach the distant armies with their supplies and munitions.

Every chain has a weak link, and fortunately for the world, there are several perilously weak links in the Nazi chain. And even more fortunate is the circumstance that the links weaken more with every passing day. Two of the most obviously weak links are the inadequate oil supplies, without which they cannot operate their mechanized army and the air fleet; and the several thousand miles of military lines of communications which Germany must guard and patrol. England will deal a paralyzing blow at these two links simultaneously, when she has accumulated the essential materials, and organized the means of dealing the blow to secure the greatest possible results.

Let us bring the northern European scene into closer focus. We have read for a long time of the superior advantages Germany enjoys in her attempted blitz against England. Well, although she had a marvelous opportunity Germany will never enjoy again in the twentieth century, she made a dismal fiasco of her chance to blitz the Kingdom. Is it true that Germany has a great advantage? Let us examine the situation in the light of facts, rather than loose propaganda.

Look at the map of Europe if one is handy. Let us start with Germany's chief advantage in aerial warfare. We see the Germany air bases on the north shore of France, just 20 miles from the suburbs of London. But on the north shore of the English Channel are the Royal Air Force bases from which the German airdromes are unmercifully hammered day and night. Conditions there are a literal hell for the German armies at all times. It is quite probable that the German troops in northern France some weeks never get a night sleep.

Many of the German army divisions are only ten and fifteen minutes by flying time from the R. A. F. airdromes. German camps and air bases are revealed to the British by daylight observation flights, and by a honey comb of secret agents, mostly French. It is also probable that parachute technique is widely employed in the espionage service also. So we can imagine just what conditions the German army lives through on the south side of the English Channel.

Shipping capable of being used to transport a German army and its mechanical units, ammunition and supplies, would have to be a mighty assemblage of boats and barges of all kinds and discriptions and in great numbers. As the weather along the English Channel does not permit anchorage except behind breakwaters, this shipping would be located in the chief seaports on the French coast. Naturally it would be visible for a great distance in daylight. It would be an easy bombing target, and the RAF hammers these harbors to the point of pulverizing them, almost nightly. Where do you suppose the shipping, on a scale as great as would be required to transport an army, would exist. I do not know, nor has it ever been suggested from whence the Nazi would produce it. I do not believe it exists, and I know that coast from Brest through to the Kiel Canal.

When you read of the RAF having to fly to foreign countries in order to bomb the Germans, it would appear that England is at a great disadvantage. Let us see how mythical that idea is. Getting back to our maps again, please notice that there are two small cities on the Belgium coast which are now German bases, Ostend, which is the Atlantic City of Europe, and Zeebrugee, a famous submarine base in the first World War. These Belgian cities are as close to the English coast as Pickens is to Grenada. And from England over to the coast of Holland is just the distance from Grenada to Jackson.

Neither London nor Berlin are the industrial centers of England or Germany. England's industrial cities are in the central and norther provinces, and southern Scotland points much more remote from the coast of France. But Germany has her great industrial center in the Rhineland of western Germany. The Pittsburgh and Detroit of Germany are on the River Ruhr. In this densely populated district are the great cities of Essen, Dortmund, Duisburg, Duesseldorf and Krefeld. Here also is the great manufacturing city of Cologne.

In short, the great arsenal of the German army, a chain of towns and cities which are on the banks of the Rhine and Ruhr rivers, and highways and railways for an area of over fifty miles, are a distance of less than 225 miles from England. The Germans have to fly nearly twice the distance to Glasgow that the English fly to reach the very heart of German industry. The Pittsburg and Detroit of Germany are closer to the RAF than Gulfport is to Grenada. Just measure it off on your map. And less than 100 miles farther are the two great industrial cities of Mannheim and Frankfurt. Last week, the great city of Cologne received the most drastic bombing of the sixty-two the British have administered to that city.

One of the most closely guarded military secrets of Germany is the amount of damage these continuous raids have inflicted upon the Reich. When you read that there have been no raids on Britain for a few days you may take for granted that there are the very best of reasons why the raids have been impossible.

Here is the vital point to bear in mind with reference to the great aerial warfare that will develop later in the year. The German armies, and vital German industries, are right across the Channel for the RAF to hammer continuously—and that the most important cities for the RAF to bomb are all within easy striking distance of England. Germany's naval bases and two great seaports, Wilhelmshaven, Gremen, Hamburg and Kiel, are all within 350 miles of England.

Berlin is 575 miles distant from RAF bases, but the Germans have to fly just as far to bomb Glasgow and Edinburg in Scotland. Speaking of Berlin—within the next 45 days you will probably read dramatic news from that city. The flying fortresses are now arriving in Britain, with other super bombers from California. British bombers of even greater power than the flying fortresses were developed in England during the winter, and are poised for action. If their destination is not Berlin I am greatly mistaken. These ships have to travel less than 900 miles to Berlin, so the weight of the bomb load they will carry can be imagined, but not felt, until the bombs are released. There will be a hot time in old Berlin that night.

Next week we shall visit the Balkans. Many Canadian battalions are probably there, with plenty of Americans in their ranks. We'll park in Salonika and see what the boys may expect to find in distant, hilly, ancient and beautiful Greece.—Herbert B. Allen.

We fellows who are interested in the Food Stamp Plan will be glad when Red Briscoe gets the power business settled so that he and Bilbo can start the Food Stamp Plan.

For those of you who have honored me with reading what I write, I will say that I still have THAT bale of cotton which I put away in 1932 with the belief that inflation would follow the give-away, spending program, and which bale of cotton I then said, and now say will, when sold, bring a fortune in depreciated money. However, to be honest about the matter, I should not kick. When I put it away, I had a lot in my name, but no equity in anything; now I have little, but all "in the clear." Therefore, I cannot honestly say that I personally have yet been hurt.

The McCormick-Deering "Volunteer" is one of the most popular walking cultivators in this section because it "fills the bill" in cultivating small fields of cotton, corn, beans, soybeans, and other row crops.

It comes in two models: Style A, balanced with a weight on the end of the pole; and Style K, balanced by having the axles offset eight inches to the front.

DIXIE'S TEN COMMANDMENTS STANDS AFTER 23 YEARS

Back in the days of World War I, soldiers of the 31st Division were embarking for service in the trenches of Flanders. As each man went up the gang-plank to the ship, he was handed a pamphlet, bearing the ten commandments of the Dixie Division, written by Major General LeRoy S. Lyon, and with an eleventh commandment written by General C. B. Hodges. The commandments were later widely published, and accredited to Marshal Foch. These are the comandments:

1. Keep your eyes and ears at the ready, and your mouth at the safety notch, for it is your soldierly duty to see and hear clearly; but, as a rule, you should be heard mainly in the sentry challenge or the charging cheer.
2. Obey orders first, and if still alive, kick afterwards if you have been wronged.
3. Keep your arms and equipment in good order; treat your animals kindly and fairly and your motor or other machine as though it belonged to you and was the only one in the world. Do not waste your ammunition, your gas, your food, your time, nor your opportunity.
4. Never try to fire an empty gun nor fire at an empty trench, but when you shoot, shoot to kill and forget not that at close quarters, a bayonet beats a bullet.
5. Tell the truth squarely, face the music, and take your punishment like a man; for a good soldier won't lie, doesn't sulk, and is no squealer.
6. Be merciful to the women of your foe and shame them not, for you are a man. Pity and shield the children in your captured territory, for you were once a helpless child.
7. Bear in mind that the enemy is your enemy and the enemy of humanity until he is killed or captured, then he is your dead brother or your fellow soldier beaten or ashamed whom you should no further humiliate.
8. Do your best to keep your head clear and cool, your body clean and comfortable, and your feet in good condition; for you think with your head, fight with your body, stand and march with your feet.
9. Be of good cheer, and high courage, shirk neither work nor danger, suffer in silence and cheer the comrades at your side with a smile.
10. Dread defeat but not wounds, fear dishonor but not death, and die game.
11. Whatever the task remember the motto of the Dixie Division, IT SHALL BE DONE.

RECREATION HALL TO BE OPEN SOON

The Division Recreation Hall will be opened around April 1st and will be center for the soldier to spend his off hours. Three hostesses (a senior and two junior hostesses) and a librarian are hired under the civil service by the government to assist in the entertainment of the Division's enlisted personnel. In the future dances will be held, plays and dramatics presented, and games, parties and other recreational activities arranged by the hostess for the benefit of the Dixie soldiers.

One of the feature points of the recreation hall is the large auditorium, with a balcony surrounding it on three sides. Shiny chrome furniture with imitation leather upholstry is plentifully supplied throughout the building. In the auditorium is a cold drink vending machine and an electric phonograph the floor is smooth and polished for dancing. In the north wing of the building is located the modern cafeteria, but neither the cafeteria nor the library, located in the south wing, will be open until the first.

Serving 71 Military Camps in Dixie

Seventy-one military camps and establishments, where more than 870,000 men will be in training, are located in the nine states served by the Southern Bell.

In sixty-five of them, this Company is providing and maintaining the telephone facilities. Necessary switchboards and other equipment and more than 66,000 miles of telephone wire in cables have already been installed. Additional equipment will be provided as required.

Nearly $40,000,000 will be spent this year by Southern Bell for new construction and general expansion to meet the South's increasing telephone needs. New central offices, buildings and local and long distance lines are being put into service, and the net gain in new telephones is expected to reach 115,000 this year.

Aware of the telephone's vital part in national defense, thousands of telephone men and women are devoting their efforts to supplying the increasing communication needs of government and industry.

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs. Toward that end we started rolling months ago, with these results:

1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.

2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.

3 Army reconnaissance cars — military vehicles of an entirely new type — are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.

4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

5 Several months ago work was started, on our own initiative, on an entirely new 1500 horsepower airplane engine especially designed for mass production. This engine is now in the test stage and plans are being developed for producing it in large quantities when and if needed.

6 A Ford aircraft apprentice school has been established, to train 2000 students at a time.

That is a report of progress to date.

The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

LET'S KEEP OUR SCHOOL CLEAN

As you walk up the front walk, have you ever stopped to think what a fine-looking school we have? And we are proud of it; not only of its beautiful architecture, but of the things it stands for and which we hold dear.

But sometimes we relax a little in our pride and do things that mar the beauty of our school. We think that one piece of paper or one pencil mark will make little impression. Yet we forget that if every one of us does these things, the final outcome will be a general mess.

In the past, this problem has been overlooked to some extent, but now that the problem has been called to our attention, let's keep our school so clean that our pride will never fade.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Marjorie Chapman opened the chapel program on Wednesday, March 18, by leading the singing of "God Bless America." Mr. Rundle made a short talk, stressing the point that there is no such thing as an important boy or girl. Mr. Hathorn presented the duplicate of the trophy which Winona now holds. Since both schools had won the trophy the same number of times, it was decided to award trophies to both schools. The trophy was was awarded for having the highest number of points in the annual contest.

The written contests will be held at ten o'clock Saturday, March 22, at the high school.

WASTE BASKET

Hello, there! Dorothy Parks and "Spud" seem to be the latest. L. D. comments that he is likely to peel a "spud."

For information about a certain freshman at S. J. C. see either Anne Odom or Camilla Smith.

"Turnip" and Billie Guy have gone so aristocratic that they've hired a chauffeur.

Bobby Weir still journeys to Greenwood, that is, when Greenwood doesn't journey to Bobby.

The nine girls who flagged down a freight train and "hitched" a ride into Grenada after a five o'clock sunrise breakfast Friday morning, feel like veteran hoboes.

Mabel Thompson and Charlie Barrareo were walking the other night. What happened to the car.

Why does Helene Chapuis say "Amen" so fervently to all the sermons of the Baptist preachers?

E. R. Smith says Charleston is ALRIGHT.

Lil York and Frank Rose were whizzing around Sunday afternoon.

Why did "Poor" Keeton leave B. Y. P. U. before the program was over?

(and he wasn't at church, either.)

Has Benton Keeton got a girl in every port?

Billy Theisman seemed quite intent on getting a picture from Margaret Green.

Bet Martha Johnsey was awfully glad to see the soldier boy that was in town this week.

What did one murderer say to another murderer? "Ain't I a killer?"

Who is the mystrious woman that haunts the wings of the stage during Senior play practice?

Has Willie Semmes dropped out of circulation or is he just bidding his time?

Ever hear any drug store slang. One day two girls came into a drug store and gave their order. One girl was very pretty and the other was very ugly. They both felt queer when the soda jerker called out "squeeze one hard and choke the other." What the boy really meant was one limeade with ice cream and one coca cola.—The Bellhaven Miss.

Sunday afternoon at the picture show: "Mmmm—what is that smell?" "Dead cowboy left over from Saturday show."

Aren't names funny things. Just think how strange it would be if some of them were changed. What if Thomas were a WHISTLE instead of a BELL, if Dale were a PIPPER instead of a HARPER, if William were a LANCE instead of a SPEARS, if Brinker were a PITCHER instead of a THROWER, if Eunice were STRAW instead of FELT, if Dorothy were a Hunter instead of a FISHER, if Sybil were a Buick instead of a HUDSON, if Marjorie were a JOHN instead of a JAMES, if Audrey were a GRASS instead of MOSS, if Kathleen were a TACK instead of a NAIL, if Essie were a FORD instead of a NASH, if Dorothy were GARDENS instead of PARKS, if Betty were a LAW instead of a RULE? Wouldn't it be funny?

So long.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB PRESENTED DR. W. D. McCAIN AT CLUB MEETING

"Mississippi Fiction" was the theme of an address delivered by Dr. William D. McCain, Director of the Department of Archives and History of Mississippi feature speaker on the Fortnightly Club's program, Wednesday afternoon, March 19th before a large and appreciative audience assembled at the Grenada Community House.

Dr. McCain, a young man possessing an unusual brilliant mind, captivated the attention of his audience by speaking in an informal manner, discussing the first novels, written in Mississippi showing several of these published a century ago, and dwelling at length on our writers of today. Dr. McCain's appreciation of these authors of fiction, who gave the state and southland an accurate recording, was expressed cleverly as was his just and naive criticism of Mississippi authors who write misleading fiction often throwing in a lynching just to sell a book to other sections of the country.

Dr. McCain was introduced by a former school mate, Mrs. John Lee. In his response to the introduction, he expressed his pleasure of speaking to the Grenada group and of meeting again one of his teachers, Mrs. Fanny Morrison of Grenada, who taught English at Moorhead College, when he attended school there. He is a native of Webster county, received college training at Moorhead Junior College, Delta State College, University of Mississippi, and his Ph. D. degree at Duke University.

A beautiful candle light tea was given in the dining room following the lecture. A long lace draped table was centered by an arrangement of fruit, grant spring blossoms. Here Mrs. C. V. McKell and Mrs. C. S. Liles poured tea. The guests served themselves from the many trays of sandwiches, cookies, candies and nuts. Mrs. C. C. Gatlin, president was a gracious hostess.

OIL SIGNS SIGNIFICANT NEAR HASERWAY

Great crowds of curious people gathered at the Williams rig near Haserway Sunday when the word got out that oil had been struck there, tho the most optimistic person did not say that oil was present then in paying quantities. The well is located on the Hayward old property.

The word got out that the drillers were suspending operation until casing could be procured and installed.

That's all we (or anyone else) knows about it.

GRENADA 16, SARDIS 1

At Sardis Tuesday the fast Grenada nine defeated the Sardis high school nine by the overwhelming score of 16 to 1.

Sardis will come to Grnada Friday afternoon for another try.

SPRING THANKSGIVING

Flowers lift glad faces, reverently,
For warm'ng kept through days of cold.
Ferns gracefully unfurl their fronds
While violets, in purple cups, their incense hold,
No cold retards sweet "Breath of Spring",
That e'en on coldest winter day
Hast sung alone in purest white, its lay.
But look ye now! a midas spray
Of molten gold, enlivens earth.
For jonquils yellow cups catch drops of rain.
And praise to Him for resurrection
Is sensed by all, in their refrain
Half redbud and maple vari-colors!
And elms small springtime leaves,
With eyes half-closed" dogwood is waiting
On hillside till earth its first warm impulse heaves,
Then such a chant! like to the "choir ensisible"
Her boughs, like angels wings, will lift, believe,
A song of praise—in purity immaculate,
Tho not a note is sounding for blessings we receiev
A mocking bird in lilting melody
Sings Allelujah, for its winter care
And all the earth is joining in an encore
And then on bended knee in prayer.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends both colored and white for their many tokens of kindness to my niece, Jennie Lou Winters, during her recent illness and passing, and for their expressions of sympathy and understanding. I also want to thank Mrs. H. W. Baker for her helpful advice and other aid.

Minnie Leonard.

There is an urgent need for volunteer knitters to complete the sweaters allotted to the Grenada chapter. Sweaters are needed for adults, the ones for children have been finished. Miss Jane Young is Red Cross chairman, while Mrs. Hurd Horton is chairman of the knitted garments committee. Call either of these ladies if you find that you can do this great service.

Lieutenant Jack Martin left early Monday morning to report for army duty at Baton Rouge, La. Lt. Martin is the son of Mrs. Ernestine Martin and the late Mr. John Martin.
